THERE'S A CU SERVICE CENTER
NEAR YOU

Welcome to the Credit Union Service Center cooperative network. As a Summit member, you can use a CU Service Center shared branch location to conduct your credit union transactions.

Q: What is a Credit Union Service Center?

A: A Credit Union Service Center (CU Service Center) is a credit union branch that is equipped to accept transactions from members of other credit unions...like yours. When you use a CU Service Center, you'll find the person-to-person service you expect plus the convenience of using many new locations to conduct your business.

Q: How do I know if a credit union is a participating CU Service Center?

A: Just look for the swirl logo at the entrance welcoming you at all CU Service Center locations nationwide. Visit www.cuservicecenters.com, or call (800) 919-CUSC (2872) today for a complete list of locations.

Q: Is the CU Service Center a branch of The Summit FCU?

A: No, but you can use the CU Service Center to conduct most financial transactions that you would usually complete at The Summit. No matter where the CU Service Center is located, you can access your own personal credit union account there. Technology and the spirit of cooperation has enabled credit unions across the country to welcome you in the personal manner you're accustomed to!

Q: I'm planning a trip. How can I find out if I'll be near a CU Service Center?

A: Just visit www.cuservicecenters.com or call (800) 919-CUSC (2872) for a complete listing of nearly 4,000 locations and hours of CU Service Centers nationwide. GPS downloads also available when you visit www.cuservicecenters.com. Since The Summit is a participant, you may use any CU Service Center as if it were your own. You can also contact us, and we'll be happy to give you a list of locations.

CU Service Center locations in the Buffalo, Rochester, and Central NY/Seneca Falls areas!

Local participating credit unions are federally insured by the National Credit Union Administration. 1-855-412-0909

Q: So...how do I use a CU Service Center?

A: Present your credit union account number and photo ID at the CU Service Center. Within a few seconds, the credit union will automatically be linked to your account at The Summit, and can seamlessly conduct deposits, withdrawals and transfer transactions as needed. It's that simple.

Q: Do I have to be a member of the credit union hosting the CU Service Center?

A: No. In fact, the rules of the CU Service Center network state that the hosting credit union may not solicit visiting members to join their credit union. The CU Service Center network is built on the concept of cooperation, and provides a neutral environment in order to benefit all credit union members nationwide.

Q: What transactions can I perform at a CU Service Center?

A: As a member of a participating credit union, you can do the following transactions:

- Deposit Funds
- Withdraw Funds
- Transfer Funds
- Make a Loan Payment
- Cash a Check

Q: Is there a transaction fee for using a CU Service Center?

A: No. Members do not pay to use CU Service Centers. However, a charge may apply for specialty services.
